MORNINGSTAR TO TOUR COUNTRY WITH HOPPE

Steerne Is Taken Out After Riding the Waves for Seven Miles.

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Aug. 11.— Montague Holbein, the well-known Eng-ilsh long-distance swimmer, started out at 5:45 o'clock this morning in an en-deavor to swim the English channel. Two hours after he took to the water he was lost to view in the haze and late tonight no news had been received concerning his progress.

Today was Holbein's forty-eighth birthday.

Attempting to swim the English channel from Cape Gris Nez to Dover is no new experience for Holbein. Six times he has essayed the task, but each time his efforts have been fruitless. His nearest approach to success was in August, 1992, when he was taken out of the water exhausted about a mile from Dover, after having swum for twenty-two hours and twenty-one minutes.

William Steerne, the long-distance swimmer of Manchester, today opened the annual series of attempts to swim across the English channel. He entered the water at South Foreland, the most casterly landing, and at noon had covered seven miles of the distance to the French coast. Shortly after seasickness obliged Steerne to give up.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Ora Morningstar, champion professional billiard player at the 18.2 balk line game, has returned furore among billiard players, was engaged by the manufacturing concern at a stipulated salary to play professional matches as an advertisement of the firm's billiard products. Morningstar now contends that the company established for him certain rules in the playing of his games which prevented him from really showing what he could do. His principal objection was that the company would not permit him to play more than a hundred-point game, while he contends that the limit for professional games should be liboo points.
